ADDITIONAL DETAILS ABOUT LIBERAL STUDIES REQUIREMENTS

Limitations on General Education Electives

General Education Electives may be selected from the lists of courses approved by Liberal Studies courses in Social Sciences, History, Humanities, Ethics, Natural Sciences, and Scholarship in Practice (SIP) with the following limitations:

- Only one additional course may be selected from the combined Social Sciences/History areas.
- Only one additional course may be selected from the Natural Sciences area.
- For-credit SIP courses at the 1000- to 3000 level can count toward the 36 Liberal Studies General Education credit hours either within one of the General Education areas or as a General Education Elective. However, no more than three hours of 1000- to 3000-level Scholarship in Practice credit that do not fall within one of the General Education areas may be counted as a General Education Elective. See information below about meeting SIP credit through a Formative Experience.

Scholarship in Practice

Scholarship in Practice courses at any level (1000 to 4000) can meet the two-course requirement. However, as above, 4000-level Scholarship-in-Practice courses do not count toward the General Education elective requirement.

Students may complete one of the two SIP requirements by taking an approved Formative Experience course, which involves applying a body of knowledge to “hands on” work outside of the classroom, such as an internship or Honors in the Major thesis work. Students must earn a grade of “C-” or higher (or an “S” for courses that offer only S/U grading) for a Formative Experience to count toward the SIP requirement.

State-Mandated Writing Requirement

Students must complete a total of twelve credit hours to meet Florida’s State-Mandated Writing Requirement. At FSU, students will meet the requirement by completing four, three-credit-hour courses. Thus, in addition to the two courses required to satisfy the English Composition requirement (ENC1101 and ENC2135), students must complete two additional three-credit courses that require college-level writing. Students may satisfy this requirement by completing either of the following combinations of courses:

- (1) One E-Series course and one State-mandated Writing course that is designated with a “W”.
- (2) Two E-Series courses.

Diversity

As an FSU student, it is expected that by learning about cultures around the world and about diversity in western culture, you will develop a broader base of knowledge for understanding yourself and the world around you. Therefore, you are required to select one Cross-Cultural Studies (X) course and one Diversity in the Western Experience (Y) course. These courses must be taken on a letter grade basis (not S/U).

Upper-Division Writing

In addition to the courses that meet State-Mandated Writing Requirement described above, all students are required to demonstrate competency in professional writing by taking one Upper-Division Writing course. This coursework may be completed outside or within a student’s major course of study.
